Wow 2005, what an excellent year for Sauvignon Blanc in the Adelaide Hills! Above average winter rains, a beautiful spring and a mild ripening climate throughout summer created perfect conditions for this varietal.

The 2005 release is the first from our Estate vineyard in the Lenswood region of the Adelaide Hills. This wine is made with no oak and no MLF allowing the zesty varietal characters of the grape to be expressed. The nose is a myriad of fresh fruit aromas – apple, pineapple and grapefruit dominate, enhanced secondarily with passion fruit and citrus. The palate retains high natural acidity balanced by a very slight amount of residual sweetness. This wine is great drinking with seafood, salads, sushi and Asian cuisine.

The 2005 release sports our first ever Stelvin screw-cap closure. This is done to retain freshness, eliminate “corked” bottles and to ensure 100% quality integrity. We also personally love the idea that the wine can be opened quickly and easily, after all the sole reason we make this wine is for your drinking pleasure!
